SAID IN CYPRESS

by Dale

Don't be surprised if the paper is really loused up this week with me in the top seat. Beth, Cass and Ann got off to a good start for the Westward Ho in Phoenix Friday and surprisingly enough, cards from Phoenix arrived Monday. Didn't think they'd make it in Beth's car, but didn't have the heart to tell Beth that before she left. She says it was 112 degrees, so they are sticking close to the swimming pool.

Beth hit a jackpot on her obituary of Willy. What I mean is, every once in a while in this newspaper business, you write something that seems to be liked—in fact, those are the articles you try hard for, because when one comes along and people tell you how much they enjoyed it, that's what makes it worthwhile to write the thousands of words no one pays attention to.

The "obit" was reprinted in the Brea Progress, because, as the editor's note said, they thought it was worthy of it. Then a call from radio station KFI in L.A. Friday brought inquiries from our radio-announcing friend there, Kerwin Hoover. He has a weekly program "Hometown News" in which he quotes bits from that state's weeklies (11:30 a.m. Sundays). Kerwin asked about the story, got some more information about Coffee, the cocker, and found out we had disposed of Alpha and Omega, her pups. Then he asked people to call us if they wanted a lovable dog like coffee. We had some calls, Kerwin, but as yet, no one has come to pick her up.

The earthquake caused many humorous situations, but of course, they couldn't make up for the tragedy in Tehachapi. In my own case, for instance, I woke up to the swaying of the house trailer in which I live, and fearing it would fall off the supports, I yelled at Coffee three times to quit scratching her fleas and wiggling the trailer. Then when I opened my eyes and when I saw her looking at me with a puzzled expression, I realized it was a quake.

Irene Heneman tells about the first quake her young daughter was in, and how she wouldn't go to sleep for two weeks afterward, except under one condition.

She made Irene go to the phone, dial Mr. Earthquake's number, and ask him to please not shake Patsy Heneman's bed that night. Then Irene would profusely thank him for his promise, hang up, and Patsy would go to sleep.

An interesting fact was revealed to me at the fire Saturday night. Some of the trucks batteries went dead, and I was kidding the firemen about it. Did you know that a siren running full blast is taking as much juice as if you held your foot on the starter? I was told by a sheriff's deputy that they could be driving 70 miles an hour in a police car with both the red and white spotlights going, hit the siren, and the motor would go dead from the overload.

That's all until Beth has another vacation.

HAY TRUCK STOPS IN CYPRESS WITH FIRE IN TRAILER

A hay truck stopped in Cypress Monday morning about 9 and stayed long enough to have half its load dumped to the ground by Cypress men.

The "culprits" were the Cypress volunteer firemen ,who were called to douse a fire in a load of hay on a truck passing by the school. The trailer was unhitched, rolled away from the buildings near the school, and about half the load had to be dumped to save the remainder. About 10 bales were burned, according to the fire department.

Quick Work By Constable Kelley

Less than fifteen minutes after he received the call at his home, Constable Haskell Kelley collared a suspect in a Cypress robbery as he fled the scene last week.

Arrested for petty theft, and receiving a suspended sentence of 60 days with probation for six months, was Jack Allen Stone, 22, of Cypress.

Kelley had gone to bed when he was called, and arriving on the scene, he found Stone's car in front of the garage which had been burglarized.

Stone had apparently become alarmed and had fled, Kelley catching him a few blocks from the garage. The loot, consisting of a battery charger and tools, was found where they had been dropped a few feet from the garage.

FIRST BENCHES DONATED for bus stops in Cypress! C. P. Bobbett, of the new Lincoln Lumber Company in Cypress, read an appeal in the Enterprise recently for merchants to put in benches for the convenience of customers using the buses going through town. Bobbett built two out of the special redwood lumber featured by his firm, and gave them to the Chamber. Shown using them for the first time at the corner of Lincoln and Walker, where they are both located, are Mrs. George Ogate, 8292 Walker, and her two sons, George (left) and Bill. Seeing if Mrs. Ogate approves of the new additions is Don Caul, Chamber member and chairman of the 1952 White Gold Day.

A MIDNIGHT FIRE GUTTED THE BUILDING containing the living quarters of Joe Cumsteinn and completely destroyed several thousand dollars worth of material stored there. The fire occurred Saturday night and the glow of the giant blaze brought curiosity seekers out from miles around, and three fire departments.

Three Fire Departments Called To Fight Saturday Night Blaze

Cars flocked to 6041 Ball Road around midnight Saturday to investigate a red glow that illuminated the countryside for miles around.

It was a fire at the home of Joe Cumsteinn, who was sleeping in the building when the fire was discovered by a neighbor, Sam Lindeboom, 9882 South Miller, Lindeboom was going to bed when he happened to glance toward Cumsteinn's home and saw nothing unusual. A few minutes later he noticed the whole rear of the building was ablaze and called the fire department.

He notified Cumsteinn, who got out safely.

The Cypress Volunteer firemen received their call at 11:22 p.m. Also present at the conflagration were trucks from West Anaheim and Los Alamitos. Due to the nature of the material which was burned and the age of the building, little was saved. Cumsteinn had $1800 worth of insurance. An accurate estimate of the loss was not released.

The sale of the Cumsteinn property had just been made Friday to his neighbor, Charles Spyksma, a dairyman.

ENTERPRISE AD MAN IN HOSPITAL

Gene Wilkerson, advertising salesman for the Cypress ENTERPRISE, was confined to the hospital Wednesday for major surgery Thursday. Due to the fact that word was received too late for any solicitation of advertising for this issue, regular calls had to be cancelled.

Rosary was said in the chapel of Renaker Mortuary on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, with the funeral being held in the Catholic Church of St. Pius V on July 21 at 9 a.m. The Rev. Frederick Kass officiated.

Interment followed in Holy Cross Cemetery, Los Angeles.

CYPRESS MAN IS INVOLVED IN CRASH

An auto crash at the corner of Orangethorpe and Miller Friday evening involved car driven by John C. Zweifel of Cypress.

Two men riding in the other car, Dale Lee Hiatt and his passenger, Emanuel Colver, both of Fullerton, were taken to the Fullerton General hospital. Hiatt suffered chest injuries and a possible broken ankle, while Colver had three broken ribs.

The greatest of faults, I should say, is to be conscious of none.

No Damage From Quake

No major damage was reported in Cypress from the tremors which resulted from the earthquake which killed eleven persons in Tehachapi early Monday morning.

A few cracked walls, and several frightened people were all that were reported.

J. A. HOLLINGSWORTH INJURED

J. A. Hollingsworth, 9661 Miller Road, met with a painful accident last week. What appeared to be a very substantial wooden box on which he was standing while doing some painting turned under him. In his fall to the floor of only a few inches, his left arm was pulled from its socket. He is making a nice recovery this week.

UNPROVED THEORIES CAN BE DANGEROUS

Diet is a science of relatively recent origin. In late years, a tremendous amount of new knowledge has been gained. At the same time, there are many frontiers in the broad field of diet which are as yet unexplored. And there are many theories which are no more than theories, and whose validity is unproved.

As an example, much has been written recently concerning the proper diet to be employed in treating atherosclerosis—the condition which is the forerunner of hardening of the arteries. Some have suggested that the food sources of cholesterol—a fat-like substance—be eliminated from the diet in these cases.

In answer to this, the Department of Nutrition, Harvard School of Public Health, published a critical editorial review in one of the leading medical journals, Postgraduate Medicine. It pointed out that the elimination of cholesterol from the diet would mean the elimination of "our best protective foods"—including meats, milk and eggs. To deny these foods, the editorial continued, "would mean to impose nutritional handicaps on the patient which might be more serious than the condition under treatment." Moreover, cholesterol is manufactured by the body itself, regardless of the individual's dietary habits.

The editorial said that there is no proof that withholding the animal foods exerts a favorable influence on atherosclerosis, and concluded, "There certainly is no evidence that meatless, milkless, eggless diets should be recommended as desirable to the general public." These foods are a major source of mental and physical energy and well-being and are needed in substantial quantities by the vast majority of people of all ages. —Industrial News Review.

ARMSTRONG COUNTY IS UNIQUE

Few people have ever heard of Armstrong County, South Dakota. It's a tiny speck on the map, with a poulation of 53 people.

However, it is a rather significant speck. For, according to the Congressional Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, it is the only county left in this whole huge country which hasn't a Federal civilian employe working within its borders.

At present ,there are some 2,500,000 of the Federal civilian employes, and 90 per cent of them are stationed outside the Washington area. Their salaries came to $8,500,000,000 last year. And their number keeps right on growing.

This is one of the reasons why, if you happen to be a married man earning $5,000 a year, which is certainly no fortune in these days, you have to work 34 days to pay your Federal income taxes alone. And if you have a good $10,000 a year job you work 43 days for the government.

Every Federal department head wants to put more and more people on the payroll—because that's one way to get promotions for himself, and to gain more political prestige and power. You, of course, pay for the waste and the duplication of effort.

I RISE TO REMARK

By JOHN PHILLIPS

From the Republican National Convention in Chicago:

Your Congressman has been holding back on this letter because of the emotions and the conflicts, here at the Convention, which are unprecedented, and which may even yet produce a previously unexpected result by the time the voting ends Thursday or Friday. You will know the result, before you read this letter; I will give some indication of the backgrounds.

This is the 3rd Convention to which I have been a delegate or an alternate from California. In previous years, one candidate has had a well organized pre-convention campaign, while other hopefuls have had less effective organizations. In 1944 and in 1948 the Dewey machine simply rolled over all opposition. This year 2 candidates had well organized and financed campaigns, of about equal strength. They met head-on in Chicago. The results have been devestating.

This will be the first Convention to be seen by TV and with the widest possible coverage by radio and the press. It will also be the first to demonstrate the questionable power of synthetic propaganda.

This was shown in the first clash. There is nothing new, unfortunately, about an argument over Southern delegates. The South rarely, almost never, delivers votes in the electoral college, but under present rules (which this conflict may change) it is entitled to votes on the Convention Floor. We wash the linen of local Southern politics and patronage in the Convention halls, with the grave danger before us, every four years, of damaging our party, and with little expectation of gain in November. I will not attempt to repeat the arguments. The National Committee decided the cases; the credentials committee decided them; in several instances, the local courts decided them, and in almost all instances, these decisions were in accord. The supporters of one candidate, realizing the publicity possibilities of a "fair play" argument, as compared with legal or technical arguments, opposed the report, refused offers of compromise and took the fight to the floor, winning the first roll call on a major issue by the vote of 607 to 531. It became a vote on the candidates, rather than a question of seating delegates. The California delegation, partly on the candidate issue, partly on a desire to support its own member of the credentials committee, who has the respect of the Californians, and partly on individual opinions on the merits of each case, voted 62 to 8. Thus we approach the crucial moment of voting for candidates with a rising pitch of feeling and resentment and enthusiasm, which it would be hard to understand, if you could see it.

This was demonstrated last night. Senator Dirksen, realizing the dangers of the conflict, to the party in November, made an eloquent speech, urging support of the credentials committee as a means of preventing faulty interpretation of the votes. As he worked up to his climax, he spoke directly to the Pennsylvania and New York delegations, recalling his own support of the candidate in 1944 and 1948, when he campaigned in 23 states, and begged them to "re-examine their hearts" for the solution and, looking directly at Governor Dewey, who is the organizing power in the General's campaign, reminded him that the party had twice followed him to defeat. Pandemonium broke out, boos rose to a climax, directed towards Dewey, with some lesser applause, and with the New Yorkers sitting glumly in their seats. Some of this may have been a reaction to the most discourteous action, on the part of the New York governor, a few moments before, which I for one have ever seen under similar circustances. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, the Republican leader of the House of Representatives, the Speaker of the 80th Congress, and the man who in the lean campaign of 1936, personally took over the party's direction and put up his own credit to save it from extinction, was speaking. Dewey strode down the aisle to the Pennsylvania delegation, directly under the speaker's stand, and engaged in an attention-attracting conference with Governor Fine. The reporters and photographers crowded the aisle and completely upset the convention. I must say I was sorry for the personal reference, and for any booing of a former presidential candidate, but my sorrow is modified by a feeling that Dirksen had finally said something that has wanted to be said for a long time, to a self-centered man who must share the responsibility for the last four years of Trumanism, with its Korean war, its debt, its taxes, its extravagances, and its theories of the inherent rights and powers of Federal government. I doubt, however, if it made much impression!

MacArthur made a good speech, which will be better when you read it. The people were looking for a one-shot treatment, which would cure all ills and rouse them to a winning pitch, and since the Washington situation of 15 months ago, can never be duplicated, they were left without the spark to start the enthusiasm. Hoover, on the other hand, delivering one of his very good speeches, aroused them to a long and enthusiastic demonstration, as did Senator Joe McCarthy and Representative Judd. I shall have to tell you more details next week.

IT MAKES SENSE!

Convention Talk Is Given At Cypress Kiwanis

Jack DeVries, Cypress resident who is president of the Norwalk Kiwanis club, presented the program to the local club Monday night.

He played a recording of one of the outstanding speeches at the National Kiwanis convention held in Detroit recently. It was by the governor of Maryland.

In the business meeting which followed the dinner, it was decided that the Kiwanis bowling team, which recently won a Long Beach league title, would challenge the Buena Park club to a match. Stakes will be decided later.

An official invitation to Kiwanis Night at the Laguna Festival of Arts Pageant next Monday night was extended to the club by Hal Bernard of Laguna Beach.

Arrangements were made for the Cypress group to attend the Division 4 picnic at Anaheim August 5. Tickets for the affair may be purchased from the treasurer, Sam Rosen.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON EXPLAINS PRACTICAL TRUTH

The query "What is Truth?" is answered by the evidence of God's power in healing the sick, supporting the needy, and reforming the sinner, points out the Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" in all Christian Science churches on Sunday.

This declaration from I John (5:6) is the Golden Text, "It is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth."

Matthew's Gospel records (4:23;-5:1,2,6), "Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people . . . And . . . his disciples came unto him: And he . . . taught them, saying, . . . Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Our Master taught no mere theory, doctrine, or belief. It was the divine Principle of all real being which he taught and practiced. His proof of Christianity was no form or system or religion and worship, but Christian Science, working out the harmony of Life and Love" (p. 26).

They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts.
—Sir Philip Sidney

LONELY NEIGHBORS

How selfish we live with our loved ones so dear,
When others around us, need a smile and a cheer!
How lonely their lives when lived all alone
Compared to us, who companionship own!

Yea! in this world are so many of these,
Even close by, perhaps next door, if you please!
Do we try in some way to brighten their day
Or even remember, when we kneel down to pray?

The fellow next door may need your bright smile
It might be a ticket, to trek the next mile
God only, knows what dwells deep in his heart
Because he is odd, shouldn't set his apart.

What a world this would be, if we would pause to think
Then hand out to others, a cup of happiness to drink
The peace in our soul, would be full to the brim,
Just to think "I did all that I could to help him."

—Gladys Farren

Salvation Army Needs Salvage

Throughout the large three-story Salvation Army Service Center which serves this Southern California Area, scores of homeless handicapped men have been busy reconditioning thousands of articles collected in the annual Salvation Army Salvage Week drive here.

Because of their handicaps, these men are unable to find employment in private industry so they turn to the Salvation Army seeking a solution of their problems. Many are too old. Others have lost an arm or a leg, or are victims of paralysis. Some are disabled veterans, others are parolees or men attempting to combat alcoholism.

When applicants enter the Social Service Center they are interviewed by friendly, experienced counsellors who attempt to learn their backgrounds and problems. They are then sent to the shop foreman for suitable assignments in the Center's occupational therapy program.

Through this Salvation Army program, men who have lost all hope are lifted out of their despondency and given a new start in life. They receive housing, food and cash grants which totals many thousands of dollars yearly.

Brigadier Ranson D. Gifford, Manager of the Center, said processing salvage items is incidental to the real job which is salvaging human lives and character. As an aid to their spiritual rehabilitation chapel services are held twice weekly with ministers of various churches as speakers.

During the past 12 months this area's Social Center provided 235,000 hours of occupational therapy, 55,380 meals, 20,145 beds plus substantial financial assistance to homeless handicapped men. In addition, it provided approximately $8,000 in food, clothing and household effects to destitue families.

"There is," said Brigadier Gifford, "a constant and continuing need for all kinds of salvage items." Clothing, shoes and furniture are especially needed at this time. Those having salvage items to donate are asked to telephone Lambert 5-2525 and a Red Shield truck will call at home or office.

The Center has a color film which gives the highlights of its rehabilitation program. It is educational, entertaining and interesting and is available free of charge to any group or organization. A projector and projectionist will also be provided without charge. The film is 16 mm. and runs 20 minutes.

Annual Traffic Count Shows 9.3% Increase

The annual traffic count held each year on the second Sunday and Monday in July by the California Division of highways resulted in an increase of 9.3 per cent in Buena Park. Figures for Sunday between the hours of 6:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m. showed a total number of 102,447 cars passing through the intersection of Manchester and Grand avenues.

Manchester carried 59,946 of that number, 28,374 travelling in an easterly direction and 31,572 westerly. On Grand 24,206 crossed going south and 18,295 north for a total of 42,501.

Plans for construction and maintenance for the coming year are based to some degree on the result of this count, highway officials explain.

Building Permits

Buena Park area building permits for the past week totaled $27,035 in valuation, as building activities continued at a moderate pace. Total valuation for the unincorporated area of the county was boosted to $883,176 by a $350,000 laboratory of the Standard Oil Company on Imperial highway, south of La Habra.

Buena Park permits for the week included a $22,500 warehouse for Uddo and Taormina at 6756 Grand ave.; a $2860 residence addition for J. C. Majors at 7242 Emery st.; a $1600 residence addition for Leslie H. Crapo at 626 6272 S. Marshall st., and $1035 in miscellaneous permits.

There were no permits issued in the Cypress or Stanton districts.

Heavy Local Schedule Faces Winning Lynx Softballers

Marion (Shorty) Hill revealed today that an arrangement with Nutrilite Foundation had been agreed upon whereby financial obligations of the amateur girls' softball aggregation known as the Buena Park Lynx will be assumed by the Foundation.

The team will continue to be known as the Buena Park Lynx and will operate from Recreation Park as home base as in the past, Hill stated. New uniforms being ordered will bear the name Nutrilite, however.

The team is enjoying an excellent season, one of three teams vieing for top spot in the Pacific Coast league. Spokesmen for Nutrilite stated that the outstanding record the Lynx have established for good sportsmanship and better softball in representing Buena Park all over the United States and Canada influenced their decision to underwrite team expenses.

Schedule of Games

Lynx vs Fresno, here, July 25
Lynx vs Fresno, Fullerton, July 26
Lynx vs Monrovia, here July 27
Lynx vs Monterey Park, there, July 29

With the temperature seemingly rising instead of declining with the evening hours, the Buena Park Lynx battled their way to a win at Fresno last weekend. The team pulled into the motel where they make their headquarters at about two fifteen in the afternoon and the sun was really beating down.

They spent the rest of the day napping and swimming in the pool until game time.

Fresno

The league leading Fresno Rockets bowed to the Lynx by a score of 7-4 in the first of a two game series at Fresno.

The scoring went back and forth in the first innings with the Lynx taking the lead and then falling behind while the Rockets pulled out in front. Marilyn (Jackie) Jennsen, Rocket hurler, got in trouble in the first frame when she allowed 4 walks to set the runs up.

With "ducks on the pond", as they call it, Annabelle Lockaby came to bat and singled driving in 2 runs.

Again in the fifth bases were filled on walks and Ruby Moore came to bat and blasted a long triple driving in three more runs. From then on the game was cinched for the Lynx. Two more runs scored in the sixth.

In an attempt to take third Marilyn Jensen was tagged for the last out, but in her slide attempt at the sack she chipped the bone in her ankle. She will probably be out for the season. Vera Miller one time national tournament pitcher will come out of retirement to hurl for the Rockets.

Fresno Second Game

The Lynx dropped the second game in the ninth inning when a costly error permitted the winning run to score.

Tommie Slappey went to the mound for the Lynx and gave up only 4 hits, while the Rocket hurler Irene Huber was pounded for 7 hits. The Lynx left 10 men on base failing to drive in a single run.

Orange Wins

The Lynx bowed to the Orange Lionettes Tuesday night on the victor's diamond 4 to 0. Bev Meissen pitched to Mary Whitney for the locals, giving up five hits.

Bertha Ragan was on the mound for the Lionettes and gave up seven hits, allowing the Lynx to load the bases twice but kept control of the game all the way. Orange loaded the bases and an outfield error gave the game to the world champs.

Federal Deficit Staggering On County Basis

The people of Orange county will have to pay $23,760,000 in taxes in the future as their share of the $12,7000,000,000 deficit resulting from the failure of congress to balance the federal budget for 1952-53 within the limits of anticipated federal income, California Taxpayers' association said today, checking the box score of congressional action on the federal budget.

This is over and above the taxes that must be paid for 1952-53.

California's share of the $12,700,000,000 deficit in this year's federal spending program will be about $1,083,310,000, the association estimated—almost as much as the $1,200,000,000 state budget for 1952-53—almost as much as the total state tax bill for the year.

Total federal spending for 1952-53 is budgeted at about $81,000,000,000—which is about $4.5 billion less than the president proposed in the January budget. Federal revenues for 1952-53 are expected to reach about $68,300,000,000, leaving a deficit estimated at $12,700,000,000.

"Congress made an effort to cut down on federal spending for 1952-53—but the cuts were not big enough to keep spending within expected revenues.

"It's not too early for the people to start a drive for federal economy in the future," the Taxpayers' association said.

"THE FOURPOSTER" SHOWING AT BILTMORE

"The Fourposter," the Broadway comedy of the past season starring Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn which comes to the Biltmore Theatre Monday, July 28 for two weeks, is the first play in lighter vein to be shown in this country from the pen of Jan de Hartog, young Dutch dramatist who has won international acclaim in the literary and dramatic field.

A rollicking tale of married life in which Miss Tandy and Mr. Cronyn who created the roles on Broadway limn the highlights of thirty-five years of wedlock, "The Fourposter" is a witty and humorous contrast to the previous de Hartog plays presented on this side of the Atlantic. These have been "This Time Tomorrow," adapted from the author's European success, "Death of a Rat," and presented by the Theatre Guild in the Fall of 1947 and "Skipper Next to God," starring John Garfield, selected as one of the "ten-best" plays of the same season. Both plays are now running in Paris where "Skipper" recently entered its third year.

With Miss Tandy and Mr. Cronyn in their present roles, "The Fourposter" was the outstanding success on Broadway this past season. The new production has been staged by Jose Ferrer, who directed "Twentieth Century," "Stalag 17," "The Chase" and "The Shrike" and is being presented by the Playwrights' Company with setting by Syrjala and costumes by Lucinda Ballard.

INITIATIVE FOR INCREASE IN OLD AGE PENSION TO BE DISCUSSED

Plans for the coming State-wide campaign in behalf of the Old Age Assistance, Increase Cost of Living Initiative, which will be on the ballot in the general election, will be discussed at a meeting of the California Institute of Social Welfare, to be held on Thursday, July 24 at 10:30 a.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pierce, 7701 Virginia Street, Buena Park.

Myrtle Williams, Secretary-Treasurer of the Institute, stated, "Continuing demands for information relative to our Old Age Assistance initiative, make these public meetings a must to all persons interested in solving this all-important problem of our aging population. Killer Of Cab Driver In Juvenile Court

Pfc Roy Clifford Broughton, 18, the former El Toro Marine who was brought back from Pearl Harbor to face a charge of murdering Richard E. Grimsley, 25, Los Angeles taxi driver, in Santa Ana last March 7, was transfered to juvenile court when he was arraigned in Santa Ana justice court last Monday.

He told the court that he was under 18 at the time of the murder. He reached his 18th birthday March 22, 15 days after the crime was committed, he said.

No date has been set for his appearance in juvenile court before Superior Judge Franklin G. West, who will determine whether to receive the case or send it back to the adult criminal court.

Broughton was brought back to the county jail Saturday evening. Enroute from Oakland with Santa Aana detectives, he told the officers that he had no reason for slaying Grimshaw, after taking the cab in Los Angeles to get back to the base.

When the cab stopped in Santa Ana, Broughton knew that he was going to shoot Grimshaw, and pointed the weapon at Grimshaw's neck, he said. "The thought flashed thorugh my mind that I hoped the gun wouldn't go off—but it did," he said.

SURPRISES IN SERIES FOR MRS. I. SANTHOFF

Mrs. Irene Santhoff had several surprises Thursday morning.

First her brother and wife drove in from San Marcos, California.

Then her son Charley, his wife and son, and an aunt, Mrs. Ivy Whitewater, arrived from Chicago.

Next, a daughter, Ellen, and her daughter arrived.

None of the group had expected to see the others there, and it was the first time Mrs. Santhoff's brother had seen Walter since his arrival home from overseas in World War II.

Walter Santhoff had brought a projector, so the group was entertained with pictures of a trip through Canada and down to the southern states.

County Official Embezzles Funds

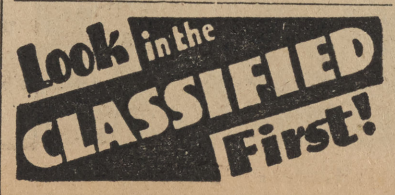
Official circles at the courthouse were startled this week when a veteran county employe, Chief Deputy Leslie H. Schmelzer in the office of the county superintendent of schools, confessed that he had embezzled about $50,000 in funds of the county employes credit union. He is secretary-treasurer of the union.

Schmelzer, who resides in Orange and has been in the county schools office for 20 years, disclosed a story of racetrack gambling with union funds which got him more and more involved as he plunged to recoup losses and cover his shortage.

He voluntarily surrendered himself to the authorities, making the first disclosure of the shortage. He was accompanied by his attorneys, Sam L. Collins, speaker of the state assembly, and his son, Sam E. Collins, of Fullerton.

Arraigned Monday in Santa Ana justice court, Schmelzer entered a not guilty plea, but Sam Collins advised the court that Schmelzer would waive the preliminary hearing, set for Friday, and would offer no defense to the grand theft charge which Sheriff James Musick had signed. He is held under $5000 bail.

Officials said that 225 county employes have funds on deposit with the credit union and will bear the loss ,except for a $2000 bond covering Schmelzer. Some employes had from $3000 to $4000 placed with the credit union, it is said.



COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

There will be a large and gaping vacancy in the Assembly Speaker's chair next January when the California legislature opens its biennial session. The Speaker's job is wide open; also wide open is the question, who will fill it?

Sam L. Collins of Orange county, one of the big men of the state, has filled it so capably for the last 12 sessions that his fellow legislators kept returning him to the office regularly every term. But Sam decided this year to run for the State Senate instead, and fell victim to the pitfalls of politics.

He will preside over the expected special session in August, if it materializes. That will be his last—No. 13.

So the Assembly will be looking around for a new Speaker next January. Since it is an important post with considerable influence over legislation, as it carries the power to appoint all committees and to direct the bills, as they are introduced to the committee the Speaker chooses, there will be a scramble for the chair.

It will go to some Republican, presumably, since that party has a safe majority.

Reports from up-state indicate that Assemblyman Charles Lyon of Los Angeles, a former Speaker, is generally regarded as the most likekly choice. Lyon presided over the Assembly from 1943 to 1947, when he left that body. He reportedly gave Collins his blessing for the Speakership when he dropped out. Two years ago, Lyon was again elected to the Assembly. He is said to be a candidate for the Speakership, now that Collins is gone.

Lyon has the added advantage of geography. Southern California has the most votes in the Assembly, where membership is apportioned by population.

However, there are a number of other prospects, from both ends of the state. One is Richard J. Dolwig, South San Francisco, who presided temporarily during the 1947 session while Collins was being cleared by the Assembly of the Doran charges that he introduced a bill protecting gamblers.

Assemblyman Randal F. Dickey of Alameda would be considered a strong prospect but for the fact that the Assembly last year booted him out of the chairmanship of the powerful Rules committee. It is not considered probable that he would now be kicked upstairs to the Speaker's chair.

Assemblymen Richard H. McCollister of Mill Valley, James W. Silliman of Salinas, and Robert C. Kirkwood of Saratoga, are other northerners mentioned. From the South, Assemblymen Jonathan J. Hollibaugh, Huntington Park; Laughlin W. Waters, Los Angeles; and Ernest R. Geddes, Claremont are sufficiently prominent to bring them into the discussion.

Some Sacramento commentators wonder, however, whether Waters and Kirkwood, who are close to Governor Earl Warren, might be unacceptable to the Governor's opponents in the Assembly.

It might be remarked is passing that probably no other Assembly district in the state can equal the record of Orange county's 75th district in furnishing two Speakers of the Assembly within a space of 10 years. First there was Ted Craig of Brea, who was Speaker ahead of Lyon, and then Sam Collins, who followed Lyon.

VFW Auxiliary Nominates For Junior Vice

Two other offices were voted on, one and two year trustees. Nominated for the posts were Bertha Stead, Beatrice Hahn, Ivy Muesse and Olive Williams. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes will be one year trustee, while the two year position will be filled by the nominee receiving the next highest number of tallies.

White Gold Booth

The blank was filled out applying for a White Gold Day booth. First selection of the group was a soda pop stand, ice cream was second and as third choice, they chose a white elephant booth.

It was decided not to sponsor an event.

Novel Sewer Plan Noted For Cypress

Since Cypress is considering a sewage collection and disposal plan, a novel system of financing sewers and allied installations, which is used in other cities in the nation was considered of interest to ENTERPRISE readers.

Instead of floating a bond and taking the users, a monthly charge of 75 cents per home is being considered by Los Angeles City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich, who brought the idea up at a recent meeting, said the system would pay for maintenance of the present system and create a $6,000,000-per yer surplus for financing expansions.

Monthly charges are now being used successfully in Detroit, Philadelphia, part of New York and 40 California communities.

In one Los Angeles case, Hyperion, pointed out that due to accelerated population growth, it will be operating at capacity by 1956, nine years sooner than had been expected.

Experts feel this may be the case in many parts of Orange county.

Dairymen To Meet Paramount July 26

Dairymen and other interested parties in Southern California have been urged to attend an informal hearing to be held in Paramount on July 26 which will consider tightening the regulations for calfhood vaccination to prevent Brucellosis.

According to local officials of the Farm Bureau, the hearing is the last of a series of six arranged by Farm Bureau to be held in different sections of California in order to allow the dairymen to express themselves about two proposals, particularly. The first of these is to make sure that cattle being brought into California are either calfhood vaccinated or free of brucellosis. In addition to this, the regulations suggested include provisions for the identification of animals that react to a brucellosis test and making sure that movement of such animals is restricted.

The proposals suggest that such tests shall be compulsory on dairy calves only and that they would not apply to animals for immediate slaughter.

Calfhood vaccination seems to have been proven the most successful manner of reduction to a minimum or elimination of brucellosis among the herds of dairy cows in California. The "test and slaughter" system has been recognized as being costly and wasteful.

Although designed basically for dairy cows, it has been found that a large percentage of beef animals have also been vaccinated under the present regulations. The present regulations establish some licensed veterinarians in each county of the state who work on a uniform fee basis. The veterinarian fees are paid by the owners of cattle and the serum is furnished by the State of California.

Brucellosis is also commonly known as Bang's Disease and is contagious abortion.

MRS. LONEY HAS MAJOR SURGERY

Mrs. George Loney, formerly of Cypress and now of Norwalk, underwent major surgery at the Fullerton General hospital recently. Her children, Michael and Steven, are being cared for by her sister, Mary Loney, of Denver, Colorado, and her daughter, Kathy, is staying with the maternal grandparents in Anaheim.

Edw. Faulkner's Sudden Death Shock To Area

William Edward (Ed) Faulkner, 39, well known business man of the Stanton-Buena Park area, passed away on July 18 in Fullerton General hospital following surgery. Although he had not been in good health for some time, he had been engaged in his usual activities until he suddenly became critically ill on Friday at his home, 9902 Western avenue. He was immediately taken to the hospital where he passed way that evening.

Mr. Faulkner was president of the Ringin Chemical Corporation of Buena Park and Los Angeles, and was also business manager of Signal Hill Emergency hospital and the Glaser Clinic, Artesia. In the recent primary election he was a candidate for county supervisor of the northern district of Orange County. He had been active in civic affairs of both Stanton and Buena Park, and was a member of the Amateur Athletic Union, Knights of Columbus, Lions' Club and American Legion.

A native of Kansas City, Missouri, Faulkner was well known there as a swimming star in his youth. He lived in Lakewood for a time before moving to the Western avenue address five years ago.

Survivors are his wife Dorothy, and daughter, Pamela; his mother, Mrs. Louise Ramsperger of Garden Grove; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Bird of Bellflower and Mrs. Marjorie Gille of Anaheim.

Holy rosary was recited at 8:30 p.m. Monday at Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars Mortuary, Anaheim. The Knight of Columbus conducted the special wake ritual.

Requiem mass took place on Tuesday at 9 a.m. in St. Pius V Catholic church with Father Frederick Kass officiating. Interment followed in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery with members of the local council of Knights of Columbus serving as pall bearers.

WILLIAM WALSH, a veteran of 16 years with the firm, has been named supervisor of Log Cabin Baking Company's new Anaheim headquarters serving all of Orange County, according to word received here from Fred Barr, manager of Log Cabin's main plant in Los Angeles.

Merchants Dropped as Opponents Hit 3-Home Runs

The Cypress Merchants ran into two big obstacles in their Anaheim city league softball playoff last week with the Anaheim Merchants.

The first block in their path was the 3-hit pitching of Anaheim's Johnny Vuksonavich, and the second barrier was a night in which Bob Thompson hit THREE home runs.

Eddie Arbiso, Cypress chucker, allowed eleven hits.

Merchants Lose First Of Series

Cypress Merchants dropped the first of a best-of-three game series Tuesday as the Anaheim Merchants took the tilt 4-1. The games are a play-off in the Anaheim city league.

Playing without four regulars, the locals managed to gather five hits to Anaheim's seven, but the foe utilized four of theirs, while Cypress players died on base.

Only scoring in the game for Cypress came in the third when Junior Mellano collected an infield bingle and came in on Arnett's single.
